

Shoes of Quality and Style

Shoe buyers always seek quality first. When this chief element of shoemaking is lacking, all other points, though they may be of the highest order, will never make good the loss of this essential feature. But quality without embellishment does not appeal to discriminating buyers. It requires the combination of both to please them. Beautifying quality is a thing that has been accomplished in our new Spring Shoes, without any extra charge for the process. Our shoes in comparison with rivals at even prices will show you the advantage attractive shoemaking gives them over the ordinary kind.

M., where he left a brother, who is a sufferer from tuberculosis. After spending the day here, they will leave this evening for Denver.

The local postoffice yesterday received its first consignment of the new issue of one-cent stamp books, each book containing twenty-four one-cent stamps in sheets of six between oil paper, the book selling for twenty-five cents. The issue of one-cent stamp books meets a long-felt want, the same did the previous issue of two-cent stamps in twenty-five, forty-nine and ninety-seven-cent books, which have become very popular and of which an immense quantity is sold by the postoffice all over the United States.

Announcement is made of a double bill, "Mrs. Bushby's Pink Tea" and "Turn Him Out" to be presented by the U. N. M. Dramatic club at the Casino next Friday night. The public will be pleased to hear that arrangements have been made for a number of oil heaters which will be distributed so as to keep the hall at a comfortable temperature. Both clubs are rehearsing faithfully and costumes are being worked up in detail, which will sustain the reputation which the Varsity plays have established for good make-ups. Appropriate stage-settings will be arranged, and the two plays, both being short and lively, promise an evening of thorough enjoyment.

Home Insurance the Best

WE CANNOT refrain from again saying something about Home Insurance. Every time that the proposition presents itself of the tremendous amount of money that is being sent out of New Mexico and Arizona for life insurance to eastern cities, the conviction comes home with increased force that a home company ought to be patronized and the money remain in the West.

The revelations of the past year of the way the enormous surplus of the big Eastern companies has been handled and speculated with ought to emphasize the fact that the people of the West should stop pouring their money into Eastern channels when it can be placed in home insurance, and every dollar of it kept and invested at home.

It is gratifying to note that home insurance is year by year receiving more and more its just deserts. Statistics show that during the past year home companies far exceeded foreign companies in the amount of business written. Why cannot this same record be made here? It can if every individual who takes out a policy the coming year will carefully weigh the proposition of the value it is to keep his insurance at home before he puts his name to the application of any insurance company.</
